NEW RELEASE FROM FREEDOM PUBLISHING

is proud to announce a brand new title:

Feasts of Glory in East and West

by

Sr. Birute Arendarcikas, RSM

Gloriously illustrated in full colour, this book will sit proudly on the shelf of any reader interested, not only in the mystery and beauty of Catholic religious art, but also in the ever increasing cross-cultural dialogue between the Eastern and Western Churches. Sister Birute has provided a beautiful display of art to illustrate the great Feasts of both the Eastern and Western Liturgical years. These are accompanied by Scripture texts and by excerpts from the great Christian writers. Because of its content and layout, this work will also make a valuable contribution to the discussion on and the pursuit of the reunification of East and West, or as Cardinal Suenens has said:

In order to unite, we must first love one another. In order to love one another, we must first get to know one another. (Introduction, p5)

AUSTRALIANA

Celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Bartholomew (Bob) Augustine Santamaria:

B.A. Santamaria: Your Most Obedient Servant: Selected Letters 1938 – 1996

Edited by Patrick Morgan

Bob Santamaria was involved in Australian public life from before World War II until his death in 1998. His letters reveal facets of his personality and activities that the public was not fully aware of in his lifetime. He began as an agent and champion of the Catholic Church, and was a key figure in Australian politics, namely the ALP-DLP Split in the 1950s. He also ran a lesser known anti-Communist Movement throughout Asia for decades, at the same time as his Australian Movement. The political activist and journalist Santamaria spent much of his last decades opposing the current activities of the Catholic Church. Spanning more than sixty years, this selection of letters to friends and members of the public reveals a person more subtle in his views than his public persona would suggest. 'Your Most Obedient Servant' is a rare glimpse into a mind that was preoccupied on a daily basis with world events and ideological controversies.

B.A. Santamaria: Running the Show: Selected Letters 1939 – 1996

Edited by Patrick Morgan

(Bob) Santamaria was perhaps the most controversial figure in recent Australian politics. Over his long, distinguished and influential career, writing was always a key part of his political activity—on every matter of importance to him he turned out exhaustive analyses and rejoinders. Running the Show features some of the many unpublished documents Santamaria produced during his six decades of continuous public activity. It includes: speeches, strategic papers, reports to his superiors, memos to politicians, positions papers, personal statements, aides-mémoire and political analyses. Running the Show brings together a selection of documents written by B.A. Santamaria, and throws new light on a number of crucial episodes in his career. In the poet James McAuley's words, he 'set a match against the age's mind'.

NEW TITLES FROM GRACEWING

Stabat Mater

Desmond Fisher

The Stabat Mater is a favourite hymn of English-speaking Catholics. But what if these versions are not true to the original Latin? Who was the author anyway? After seven hundred years these and other questions about this much loved hymn remain unresolved. There have been many authors cited, but, the most likely candidate is: Jacopone da Todi. Here is his fascinating life story, and his creative work as one of the great Italian poets of the Middle Ages. All this played out against the background of the horrific events of the Black Death, and the subsequent pogrom that wiped out most of Europe's Jews. ISBN: 978-0-85244-862-5

A Theology of Wonder: G.K. Chesterton's Response to Nihilism

Brian P. Gillen

"At the back of our brains there is a forgotten blaze or burst of astonishment at our own existence. The object of artistic and spiritual life is to dig for that submerged sunrise of wonder." G. K. Chesterton.

176 pages

This new and engaging study shows how Chesterton's "theology of wonder" not only acts as a brilliant antidote to the philosophy of nihilism, but also provides us today with that element most lacking in modern thought, namely the astonished sense of gratitude and wonder at the mystery of existence, and the joyous recognition, in particular, at the marvel of being human.

Saint Therese of Lisieux and her Sisters Jennifer Moorcroft

So much has been written about Saint Thérèse, can there be even more? Yes, because this book introduces us to those who would describe themselves as 'lesser souls' compared to Thérèse, but who nevertheless put into practice her 'Little Way'; those who were part of her life, both in her family and in the monastery. In biographies of Thérèse those around her appear on the periphery, a background to the canvas on which Thérèse is painted. But they are interesting in their own right, so varied in their personalities, ones who were touched by

Thérèse and whose lives were changed by her, but who also played a part in her becoming the Saint she was. ISBN: 978-0-85244-846-5 Was - $29.95 216 pages

WONDER

St. Mary Magdalen in Provence: The Coffin and the Cave

Michael Donely

This book concentrates on the venerable tradition that links Mary to the heart of la Provence Verte and to the cave in the massif of Saint-Baume where she is said to have ended her days as a hermit, after helping evangelise the area. It also leads the reader to the coffin in the nearby town of Saint-Maximin-la-Sainte-Baume, which is said to contain her bones. These places have been a magnet for pilgrims for centuries and remain so today. Yet the tradition linking the coffin and the cave is hardly known in the English-speaking world. Here, in a quest both spiritual and historical, is its first full-length examination. Could there be any truth in it? ISBN: 978-0-85244-177-0 224 pages Was - $29.95 Now – $25 You are welcome to visit our Bookshop: 6 Malvern Street, Bayswater, VIC, 3153 Ground Floor – Freedom, 1st Floor – SBBC (no lift provided)

THE DESERT FATHERS

Being Still: Reflections on an Ancient Mystical Tradition

Jean-Yves Leloup

For more than fifteen hundred years Christianity has cultivated a rich and varied teaching on the practice of stillness and inner calm. Here we can find answers to the contemporary psychological struggle for inner peace. In a fresh and engaging reading of this ancient contemplative spirituality, Jean-Yves Leloup explores the writings of many spiritual masters from across the centuries. In particular he focuses on the Desert Fathers: the fourthcentury monk Evagrius, St. John Cassian, and the anonymous 19th-century author of The Way of the Pilgrim.

Drawn from the experience of the monasteries of Sinai and Mount Athos, here is a clear and practical presentation of the spiritual art of arts: stillness in the face of interior pain and confusion.

The Desert Fathers: Saint Anthony And The Beginnings Of Monasticism

Peter H. Gorg

ISBN: 978-0-85244-537-2

In the late third century, more and more people withdrew to the radical seclusion of the desert so as to live entirely for God under the direction of a spiritual father. Among these "Desert Fathers" one figure is especially preeminent: Saint Anthony the Hermit. This book starts with the hour when monasticism was born and describes the life of those revolutionary Christians who sought God in the Egyptian desert. The focus is the life and work of Saint Anthony. The second half of the book presents other Desert Fathers, such as: Paul of Thebes, Pachomius and Simeon Stylites, as well as the great founders of the monastic communities in Western Europe who were inspired by them: John Cassian, Columban and Benedict.

The Desert Fathers: Sayings Of The Early Christian Monks

The Desert Fathers were the first Christian monks, living in solitude in the deserts of Egypt, Palestine and Syria. In contrast to the formalized and official theology of the "Founding Fathers" of the Church, they were ordinary Christians who chose to renounce the world and live lives of celibacy, fasting, vigil, prayer and poverty in direct and simple response to the gospel. First recorded in the fourth century, their sayings-consisting of spiritual advice, anecdotes, parables, and reflections on life-influenced the rule of St. Benedict, set the pattern for Western monasticism, and have inspired centuries of ordinary Christians living 'in the world', poetry, opera and art. Organized around key themes: Charity, Fortitude, Lust, Patience, Prayer, Self-control and Visions. ISBN: 978-0-14044-731-6 240 pages Was - $17.00

The Tiara and the Test Tube: The Pope and Science from the Medieval Period to the Present

A popular myth put about by secularists is that between the Church and science the relationship has been, and continues to be, a stormy one. Nothing could in fact be further from the truth. An analysis of historical data shows that modern science developed in the Medieval period against a background of Christian faith in the creation. Pope Sylvester II was a brilliant mathematician whose discoveries led to the number system we use today. Pope Innocent III founded a hospital in Rome which was the basis for the modern city hospital system

Our Lady stands at the heart of the Christian Tradition. Over the centuries, much has been written about the Mother of God, so much so, that a careful study of Our Lady in the Church's teachings seems a daunting task. The Right Way, The Wrong Way and the Railway: Great Victorian Railway Stories Nick Anchen

The Right Way, the Wrong Way and the Railway takes a real 'warts and all' look at the Victorian Railways. Eight years in the making, this book abounds in history, humour, railway stuff-ups and the typical stupidity which often went with The Job. From the mysteries of safeworking to suburban shenanigans, from close shaves to the downright bizarre, this book has it all – right across the state – from the 1920s through to the 1980s. From the memories of 50 railwaymen and women, this book is 'The Good, The Bad and The Ugly' of the Victorian Railways!

Life on Australian Locomotives

David Barnett

What was it like to drive a steam locomotive? This book tells the ups and downs, mishaps and triumphs of life on the footplate. The author worked as first a trainee then as an engineman fireman on the footplates of locomotives in Western Victoria in the 60s at a time when bumper wheat harvests saw trains carrying tons of grain through Ararat for shipping overseas. A variety of locomotives were in use. We hear how some performed magnificently, a few sluggish and recalcitrant, requiring every ounce of skill and perseverance of the engineman to keep the wheels turning. A limited number of passenger trains also saw steam haulage. The drama and adventure of running these engines is described in graphic and gritty detail by one whose task was keeping the water boiling and the steam gauge needle on the mark. All this is set against a background of thudding air compressors, chime whistles and staccato exhausts, as well as the occasional whine of a diesel electric's dynamic brake, making this a truly exhilarating picture of Life on Australian Locomotives. High Speed Trains

Peter Clark

Ever since Japan introduced their Shinkansen trains, commonly called the Bullet Trains, in the 1960s, high speed rail has spread across Europe and Asia. From the TGV in France, to the HST in Great Britain, to the ICE in Germany, and the KTV in South Korea, and with operating speeds of just under 400km/h, high speed rail is a serious alternative to air travel. This book examines the history of high speed rail, and also looks at the problems faced and solutions found. It also looks at Australia's attempts at high speed rail. It also has details of all the different approaches countries have taken to high speed rail – Japan, France, Britain, USA, Canada, Germany, Russia, Sweden, Italy, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Austria, Switzerland, Spain, China, South Korea, Taiwan and Australia.
